We Go to a Land

Clearing Trial

He was leaving town. I didn't actually see him go, but, like Kilroy, he left his mark. I saw it on the Hope sign as State Highway 4 enters town from the north. The sign said originally: Hope, Pop. 8,605. But with a single bold stroke our friend had altered it to read: "8,604."

Bulldozers don't work for nothing, but what they do is marvelous regardless of cost.

Monday afternoon I saw Harvey Thomas' demonstration of land-clearing with a Caterpillar D-2 on the Tom Duckett farm a couple of miles north on the Washington highway. This mechanical monster waded through a dense jungle of second-growth, knocking over fazed trees and flattening the landscape.

I had expected a great cloud of dust, and protected the camera accordingly, but there wasn't any dust in the depths of the woods, although we got hot jumping over alien trees and tripping on tangled vines in our constant movement to keep out of the way of the machine.

There were 30 or 40 cars parked on the Washington road as land operators turned out to see this test, evidence of the keen interest in today's method of handling an always-tough problem—the clearing of brushland. Years ago it was entirely a matter of manpower, swinging axes and brush-hooks; but today there is no common labor for any large operation, and even if it were available the land wouldn't stand the cost.

So today a machine does the work of scores of men. And some of the machine operations are truly fantastic. The other day I was reading how Texas farmers are reclaiming thousands of acres from the brush by dragging a huge navy-ship chain between two tractors, with a huge metal ball rolling along in the center to hold the chain close to the ground and scarify the earth.

It's the same principle being used today in all machine-clearance of land, whether the operation be large or small.

PMA Group to Nominate Committeemen

Patmos, Rider's Store, 2 p.m., July 1.

Shover Springs-Rocky Mount, Otwell's Store, 9 a.m., July 2.

Hope, Court House, 2 p.m., July 2.

Fulton-Guernsey, Odom's Store, 9 a.m., July 3.

Cross Roads-Mc Nab, Gilbert's Store, 8 p.m., July 3.

Washington-Columbus, Hulsey's Store, 9 a.m., July 6.

DeAnn-Bairds Chapel, Samuel's Store, 2 p.m., July 6.

McCaslin-Belton, McCaslin Store, 10 a.m., July 7.

Blevins-Sweet Home, Sweet Home Church, 2 p.m., July 7.

Ogan-Sardis, St. Paul Church, 10 a.m., July 7.

Blagen, Wolff's Store, 2 p.m., July 7.

Another matter of considerable interest to Hempstead County farmers, that will be discussed at these meetings is gathering of farm data for determination of cotton acreage allotments for 1954. All farmers interested in cotton production should attend one of these meetings.

When Lewis and Clark took 31 men across the continent 150 years ago, there was only one death in the party and that was from disease and not from trouble with wild animals or Indians.

Bermuda Is Strictly for the Natives—You Have to Live There 7 Years to Even Work

By HAL BOYLE
HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—Page from a Bermuda notebook:

Bermuda is a real tourist paradise—but it is a paradise on a long term basis only for the home folks.

Many a visiting American capitalist, on first view says:

"Boy, this is for me—no income tax, no inheritance tax, no sales tax, no big public debt. I think I'll move my money over here and go into business."

But if he investigates, he learns the sad fact that this is a tight little island, and that Bermuda is for the Bermudians. He finds that he can't go to work here unless he has lived in Bermuda for seven years—or gets special permission from the government. He finds that any company that does business here must be at least 60 per cent owned by British stockholders. He finds that only a total of 2,000 acres of the 21-square mile colony can be owned by non-Bermudians. He may also be dolefully surprised to learn that property along Front Street, the main business thoroughfare, is about as high-priced as footage on Fifth Avenue in New York.

One American tax attorney, whose inquiries disillusioned him on the future of Bermuda as a refuge for the wealthy tax-oppressed, said:

"You have to get an act of Parliament here even to open a hot dog stand."

Real financial and political control is held by a dozen or so old Bermuda families—here from 100 to 300 years—known jocularly, even among themselves, as "the forty thieves."

Bermuda has known many economic ups and downs in the last three centuries. But some of its first families have over that time held on to fortunes made in waves of wealth from many sources—first tobacco, then salt, then privateering and smuggling, the export of HOT SPRINGS (AP)—Voters in five Garland County townships decide today — amid a suspicion charged atmosphere—if they want legal sales of liquor to continue in their areas.

"Garland County has a habit of holding honest elections," Tucker said. "And I have every reason to believe that this will be done Tuesday. I neither believe nor assume that this law will be violated."

Attempt to Oust Court Justice Douglas Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wheeler (D-Ga.) made his formal argument today for impeachment of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and a majority of the hearing subcommittee promptly told him he had failed to make a case.

Wheeler offered his resolution immediately after Douglas had issued a stay order quickly overruled by the full court, to hold off the election of atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. The Georgian based his complaint largely on that action but brought in other matters in charges which included "treason" and "moral turpitude."

"I'm afraid that as a layman you have not fully comprehended the depth of these charges in a legal sense which we lawyers know and understand," Chairman Graham (R-Pa.) of the House Judiciary subcommittee said.

Reps. Walter (D-Pa.) and Wilson (D-Tex.) made similar comments after Wheeler, a farmer and former school teacher, had acknowledged that some of his material was in error, some was hearsay, and it would take a "liberal" interpretation of the law to make some points stand up.

Can't Reason Why Discharge Dishonorable

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Paul F. Schur, Jr., a prisoner of the Communists in Korea for more than two years, says he can't understand why the army discharged him as an "undesirable."

Schur, 24, the son of a former San Francisco left-wing labor leader, disclosed yesterday he was discharged June 24. He was a corporal.

Sixth army headquarters said Schur was discharged under provisions of army regulation 615-370 by orders of the adjutant general of the Army Department.

An Army spokesman said the discharge came under a section of the regulation applying to "individuals who have been determined by investigation to be disloyal or subversive, but in whose cases trial by court martial has been deemed not feasible or warranted."

Schur was returned here last month on a secret flight from Korea. The flight caused a controversy when the Air Force withheld the names of the 22 men aboard because the Defense Department believed some were "victims of Communist propaganda."

Vandenberg Leads Military Shakeup

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The change of the military high command begins today with retirement of Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force and senior member of the joint chiefs of staff.

A farewell salute from jet warplanes and marching men of the force Vandenberg has commanded for five years was arranged at Bolling Air Force Base here.

A few weeks hence the others of the "Old Chiefs" will depart to make way for the "new chiefs" named by President Eisenhower, partially in response to a demand by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) that there be a clean sweep of the strategy-making Joint Chiefs.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower were invited to attend the ceremony at Bolling field, but the White House said last night the Chief Executive had made no plan to attend.

Secretary of Defense Wilson and Deputy Secretary Roger M. Kyes will also be absent. Wilson left Washington Friday for a 10-day vacation in Northern Michigan and Kyes will remain at the Pentagon.

Although only 54, Vandenberg has completed 30 years of service as an air officer. He served a full four year term as air chief in April, 1952, but former President Truman re-appointed him to a short term so he could round out his 30 year military service and become eligible for retirement.

When Eisenhower took office in January, he made no move either to rename Vandenberg or pick him as chairman of the Joint Chiefs to succeed Gen. Omar Bradley, whose second term in that office expires in August.

U. S. Pilots Have Field Day, Down 15 Enemy Jets

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SEOUL (AP)—Sharpshooting Sabre jet pilots shot down 15 Communist MIG jets today to set a new one-day and one-month record for the Korean war.

The Sabres boosted their MIG bag for June to 74, smashing the old record of 63 set last September. And today's kill erased the old single-day mark of 13 set last July 4.

The ground war dwindled to mostly probes and skirmishes, but the Eighth Army announced that the Communists fired a record-breaking 1½ million artillery and mortar shells this month. That's more than double the number of shells fired by Red guns in any previous month of the war.

It meant that almost two shells crashed down on Allied lines for every single foot of the 135-mile front — more than four for every Allied soldier on the line.

The U. S. jets scored their greatest victory over the swept-wing Red jets as battered infantrymen on the Western Front rested momentarily from two weeks of bloody battling.

The 38th jet ace of the war emerged from afternoon battles high over North Korea. He was Lt. Henry Buttman of Dayton, N. Y. He scored his fifth kill.

Maj. James Jabara of Wichita, Kans., history's first jet ace also had a spectacular day. He downed two MIGs to boost his kills to 14 in two combat tours. Jabara now is only two below the all-time jet mark of 16 set by Capt. Joseph McConnell Jr. of Apple Valley, Calif.

Typhoon Bring New Threat of Flood to Japan

TOKYO (UP)—A 120-mile-an-hour typhoon churned across the South Pacific toward Japan today, bringing the threat of new storm and flood damage to battered Kyushu island, where torrential rains over the weekend caused more than 1,000 casualties.

Latest tabulations place the number of flood victims at 2,134—473 dead, 974 injured and 887 missing. More than 1,000,000 Japanese were driven from their homes.

No American casualties were reported, but late reports said the United States Tomlinson Ammunition Depot, near Kokura, was "seriously damaged" by the floods. Servicemen's families have been evacuated from the area.

Two U.S. airmen who battled the raging, flood-swollen Onari river in a frail rubber boat to ferry 11 Japanese to safety Friday night have been recommended for the Soldier's Medal—America's top decoration for combat heroism.

Extended Forecast

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—No important changes in Arkansas' weather are expected through Saturday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's extended forecast today said temperatures will remain around the same hot levels. Precipitation, in the form of widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers, is expected to be moderate to locally heavy.

Will Do Best Possible Says Highway Chief

Herbert Eldridge, new director of the State Highway Department, told members of local civic clubs today noon about the department's over-all plan for Arkansas highways.

Eldridge emphasized that the department was not going further in debt and gave a breakdown on how highway funds are distributed. A third of money goes to retire bonds and will until 1972. Another third goes for maintenance and the balance is matched with federal funds for road building.

The Director praised the new system for selecting commissioners and promised the best administration possible but made no promise to build any certain road. He pointed out that under the present setup road building is on a statewide basis and that the commission fairly well represents every section of Arkansas.

It is his belief that the government owes to it's people a dollar's worth of service for every tax dollar collected. Eldridge said and indicated he would do his best to see that highway funds are used where most needed.

He was introduced by Franklin McLurey, Special guests were Glen Wallace, highway commissioner of Nashville, A. G. Rives, district superintendent and J. W. Jeter of the Hope office.

Rails to Cut Rates on Feed Shipments

WASHINGTON (UP)—Agriculture department officials today got ready to ship up to $8,000,000 worth of livestock feed into drought-torn counties of Texas and Oklahoma and indicated the railroads have agreed to cut freight rates on the emergency shipments.

A spokesman said the Santa Fe line, one of six serving the area, may cut its shipping rates 50 per cent. He said William Farley, president of the American Association of railroads will give the "wholehearted cooperation" to the requested reduction in rates.

It is estimated that in 1950 cultivated crop in the United States took six million tons of nitrogen out of the soil of which three million tons was replaced by nature and one million by chemicals, leaving a deficit of two million tons for that year alone.

All Around the Town

By The Star Staff

In case you don't know it you are paying at most Hope stations a penny more a gallon for gasoline than this time a week ago.

About the middle of June oil refineries increased prices from 25 to 30 cents a barrel and last week the increase hit gasoline stations here by one cent a gallon.

According to the dictionary there are 42 gallons in a barrel of petroleum, so the increase started at the refineries has climbed through the channels from 25 cents to 42 cents with the consumer, as usual, the one who pays.

A barrel of crude oil will not make a barrel of gasoline but not one drop is wasted and byproducts from the oil probably went up just the same as gasoline. . . . and oil is not the only thing to go up.

Soft drinks here now cost six cents a bottle and coffee is selling for ten cents a cup in at least one Hope cafe although most places still charge five cents a cup.

Saturday is July 4 and downtown Hope stores will be closed. . . . merchants will hold Saturday hours on Friday, opening at the regular time and closing at 8 p.m.

Chinese Declare Clark's Plan Not Acceptable

By EARNEST HOBERECHT

SEOUL, Korea, Wednesday (UP)—South Korean leaders turned against President Eisenhower's special trouble-shooting envoy today and one of them invited the United States to pull its troops out of Korea if it wanted to.

The truce talks were doubly deadlocked. The Communists indicated clearly they would not accept Gen. Mark W. Clark's call for an armistice with or without the support of South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

It was made clear also that the talks between Rhee and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, the trouble-shooter Mr. Eisenhower sent here to induce Rhee to accept the armistice, had bogged down.

There were open hints in high Korean quarters that Robertson lacked authority.

"Two many things are being referred back to Washington," one official said.

South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tae said in an exclusive interview with this correspondent:

Persons believe the United States perhaps now regrets its original decision to come into Korea. If that is so, and if the United States wants to withdraw, it should say so openly and should not try to cover up its motives by giving other reasons for its plans.

Taduo Pyongyang, North Korea's multiphase, called Clark's request for a resumption of negotiations (inane), and one of the Communist news agencies, blamed Clark for Rhee's release of North Korean prisoners.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the French government has approved holding of a Big Three foreign ministers' conference here about July 10.

It was disclosed yesterday that Britain had suggested such a conference.

Dulles told a news conference one of the main reasons for a three-power meeting would be to draft a united western position toward Germany.

Dulles also called attention to "extensive unrest" within Russia's European satellites. He indicated the East German riots and other problems generally would be discussed.

Answering questions, the secretary said the new French government headed by Joseph Laniel, depicted in a cable, Dulles received.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

It was bound to come.

President Eisenhower's weak and timid attempt to mongrelize the Republican party with domesticated Democrats in his cabinet, with queasy advances to New D party-crashers such as Barney Baruch and the New York Times, and other manifestations of a spirit of appeasement has finally brought a direct challenge from a midwestern Republican editor with a strong mind and a brave political spirit.

The editor is Richard Lloyd Jones, the owner of the Tulsa Tribune. He is one of the few newspaper editors in the country who has stood by Republican principles when others have scurried to the banners of false leaders in the hope of being invited to the White House and "consulted" on things they know no more about than any other average person.

Jones was a Landon Republican in 1936, the fateful year of decision when an infatuated electorate turned down an honest, meat and potatoes, American who would have cut out Roosevelt's squandering and repulsed the Communist treason within the government and probably would have kept this country out of war.

His challenge is, in effect, almost an outright repudiation of Ike as a Republican on grounds of political betrayal of the party and his promises. It was written from Oshkosh, Wis., on June 22, following the Landon Republican state convention at Madison.

Addressed to Sherman Adams of the White House palace guard, Mr. Jones' letter said:

"I write out of grave concern for the Republican party and our country.

"No one can reach the President. He had made you the Iron Curtain behind which he has isolated himself. Poor fellow, he doesn't know that the prairie fires of a new party are being ignited now as definitely as they were in 1854.

"Does he know? Do you know what went on at Madison? Over 4,000 delegates from every county in the state met in an officially called convention to proclaim purpose and policy. There, over 4,000 Republicans booed Senator Wiley for being a Dulles-Eisenhower stooge. They booed Wiley out of the convention. They booed him out of town. He couldn't be elected dog catcher today.

"At Dartmouth the other day the President of the United States made a fool speech about 'burning books.' The President should be smart enough not to make a

Kindness Pays Hotel Workers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sixty DeLuxe Stratford Hotel employees know today that kindness has a payoff.

Dr. W. Oakley Hernandez died last June 12 at the age of 80. A heart condition had kept him bedridden during most of the two years he was in the hotel. In his illness hotel employees showed him kindness, his wife said.

So last week she distributed envelopes to bellhops, doormen, desk clerks, elevator operators, telephone girls, maids and waiters. Some contained a $100 bill, others $50—plus a note of appreciation.

Young Bandits Have a Real Surprise Party

NEW YORK (AP) — Four young bandits—with time on their hands and larceny on their minds—staged a "surprise party" yesterday for a dentist, a woman physician and 18 others.

The quartet took over for four hours the Brooklyn house used by the dentist and physician, admitting 15 patients as they arrived, robbing them of jewels and cash, and keeping them prisoner through the siege.

But the four young men, before fleeing in fright when the physician fainted, treated their victims to drinks and snacks and even returned some of their loot at the request of three patients.

It all started late in the afternoon in the three-story house owned by Dr. Songa A. Monen, 50. She lives there and has an office there. The dentist, Dr. Irving K. Madow, rents rooms there for an office.

The four robbers, apparently in their late teens or early 20s, first invaded the dentist's ground floor offices. One youth held a pistol, two others carried switchblades.

DOROTHY DIX

One-Sided Love

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 20, suffering from a broken heart. Three months ago I broke my engagement to a man, two years my senior, because I found I was to have his baby, and loved him too much to put this added burden on him.

Perhaps I ought to have told him, but during the last month of our engagement he had begun to change toward me — becoming inconsistent and thoughtless.

I spent at least five evenings a week with him, but he complained it wasn't enough, and my health began to suffer because of the late hours I kept. After I broke the engagement, I had a miscarriage, then told him of my plight. I was very ill, but he claimed I was entirely responsible for everything that had happened, and that I had made him very miserable. Now, he has another girl and says he doesn't know which of us he loves. He is still inconsiderate, yet wants to alternate dates with me and the other girl. Although I realize his faults, he's like a magnet — I can't stay away from him. I love him. Will my love be enough to carry us through or should I go ahead on my own? R. O.

Answer: You certainly reached into the very depths of humanity to come up with this specimen. No single could does he rate the most casual consideration of a decent girl — yet you are feeling yourself into a believing you love him. Some day you'll look back on the present and be very much ashamed. True love cannot exist without respect. You can't possibly respect a man who lured you into physical submission with the oldest and most contemptible dodge in the world — that he wouldn't love you if you didn't give in. He fool speech. He obviously wanted to take a crack at Senator Joe McCarthy, in return the Republicans of Wisconsin took a sock at "Ike." They cheered McCarthy until the rafters rang. Nowhere in the nation could "Ike" get such cheers today. Was his Dartmouth speech an outburst of ignorance or jealousy?

"We elected what we were assured would be a 'business' administration. Any business that does not keep its pledges soon goes out of business. 'Ike,' the candidate, and the Republican party promised the people that they would fire the indolent and incompetent, cut payroll and renounce taxes. Now the President says it can't be done. And his Stassen and Dulles actually paid the payroll. Did Eisenhower know he could not keep his promise when he made it? Or did he know so little about the job he wanted? Either way, he has defaulted his promise and no affable smile is going to efface the people's astonished disappointment in this betrayal.

"Congressman Reed is totally right. The Republican Party can keep its promise to the people. And it must keep its promise to go out of business. Eisenhower now complains that Truman had him licked before he got to the White House.

"What would Theodore Roosevelt do if he were in Eisenhower's place today? He would go to Congress as a militant political marshal and demand the repeal of the civil service obstruction to honesty, decency, efficiency and economy in government. But Eisenhower just can't. He isn't built that way. He is licked before he starts.

"A little token batch of low salary, inconsequential clerks got the axe. A snarl gesture. The people's disgust is growing and Eisenhower's domineering divert them from the alarming truth by taking back-handed slaps at Herbert Hoover, General Douglas MacArthur, and above all, Senator Joe McCarthy who has done, and is doing, more than 'Ike' has ever done to protect us from our enemy.

"In my own state, Oklahoma, as in border states, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas, I hear the perplexed people ask, 'What has become of the militant crusader we thought we sent to the White House?' He should be in there pitching with McCarthy instead of hurling stones at him. Eisenhower misses his target just as he bomb Nevada instead of the Reds in Korea.

"Eisenhower could have ended the Korean war in victory. Instead Churchill takes the telephone and we take an immoral, humiliating defeat. Dulles is Acheson by a different name. He is dragging the Republican party down. And don't be so silly as to doubt it. We need a militant American in the President's chair, and militant Americans at every place around his cabinet table.

"Eisenhower's administration is already cracking up. State protests, as at Wisconsin last week, are going to grow. Last confidence is hard to regain.

"The Democrats stand condemned on their record. The only advantage they can gain is a Republican regard of timidity and incompetence. If one party is revealed as wicked, and the other party too timid to wage war on wrong, then a new American party must be born or America is gone.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed)

By BEN PHLEGAR Associated Press Sportswriter

The slumping Yank and Brewers packed up their troubles in their old kit bags and hit the road today for something to smile about.

The Yanks, deep in their losing streak of the year, replaced their winning touch in their own ballpark and they were hoping a change of scenery would make a radical difference.
